

Disc 5, Part 2: Vocabulary List

Nā ‘Ōlelo Pōkole, expressions

nani maoli nō - truly beautiful nō - an emphatic word, affirming or intensifying the word that comes right before it ho‘i - another emphatic word, similar to nō, and often used in combination with nō. It can also mean “again”, “also” or “indeed”.

‘a‘ole - no, not no hea mai? - where from?

kekahi i kekahi - from one to the other a - and me - with hui pū - to meet together moe pū - to sleep together ma Hawai‘i - in Hawai‘i ‘oiai - since, due to the fact that inā - if ma hope mai - afterwards i mua pono - right in front paha - this word means “perhaps” and refers to the word that comes right before it, as in he malihini paha - a visitor perhaps e ka mea ho‘olohe - o listener. This is addressing the person listening to the story kekahi - a or an kekahi mau - some na‘u - for me nāna - for him or for her ‘o ia - she or he. This is used as the subject in sentences like “he went for a ride” or “she will speak”.

Nā Kikino, or noun-like words he kapakai - a shoreline he ali‘i kāne - a chief he pahu - a drum he moemoeā - a dream or fantasy he moe‘uhane - a dream in which the experiences seem almost real he kaikaina - a younger sibling of the same sex, meaning the younger brother of a male, or a younger sister of a female.

he mo‘o - a gecko. Also a mythical creature, a guardian spirit he ‘uhane - a spirit he māhele - a part or division he hua‘ōlelo - an individual word he ‘ohana - a family

‘A‘ano, adverbs and adjectives u‘i - beautiful, young beauty kupaianaha - amazing pāha‘oha‘o - mysterious, amazing, intriguing, unfathomable make - dead lili - jealous kaumaha - sad pōkole - short ola - to be alive

Inoa, proper names

Lohi‘au - the chief of Kaua‘i Laupāhoehoe - the place on Hawai‘i island where Pele was sleeping Hā‘ena - a place on Kaua‘i Hi‘iaka - the favourite young sister of Pele Hopoe - the best friend and companion of Hi‘iaka Pana‘ewa - the lush forest area on Hawai‘i island which was a favourite place for Hi‘iaka and Hopoe

Nā Hamani a me nā Hehele, action words ho‘omaopopo - to remember, as when you remember something you were supposed to have done. Also “to remind someone of something”. lohe - to hear ho‘olohe - to listen moe - to sleep kono - to invite ola - to live ha‘alele - to leave a place or a person to go somewhere else ala - to wake up from sleep ki‘i - to fetch something mālama - to take care of something ‘ae - to agree kuhi - to assume, to suppose ho‘i - to return home. Note that this is a different “ho‘i” from the one we heard earlier meaning “indeed” and “also”.

ho‘oma‘ama‘a - to practice ho‘omākaukau - to prepare for something